Grashorn Family Project

CM Cares is the newest branch of the Construction Management Department at Colorado State University. The emphasis of the program is community involvement and service.

One class associated with the CM Cares Program, Construction Leadership, is actively engaged in projects across the Front Range.

The CM Cares group assigned to the Grashorn family will be building a wheelchair accessible entrance into the home with an outdoor shade structure in the backyard. This will offer the opportunity for all family members to be together, including Gavin, who is unable to sit or walk but wants to be outside with his little brother, Jameson.

We are asking for donations of time, resources, material, and money to help make this project a reality. If you care to learn more about the Grashorn family and the CM Cares Program, or how to donate please visit: www.cm.colostate.edu - Click on CM Cares or visit www.cm.colostate.edu/cm-cares/donate.aspx

Gift Acknowledgement
The full amount of your donation will be used to support the CM Cares program and projects. Please indicate below if you have a preference to support a specific CM Cares project. Once projects are fully funded remaining donations will be used to fund CM Cares initiatives.

□ Grashorn Family Project: Addition of a wheelchair accessible entrance into the home with an outdoor shade structure in the backyard to allow family members to be together, including Gavin, who is unable to sit or walk on his own but wants to be outside with his little brother, Jameson.

□ SAVA Project: Non-profit organization that provides comprehensive services for sexual assault victims will receive a wheelchair accessible entrance and ADA-approved bathroom to meet the needs of clients.

□ Walter Family Project: Home modifications to improve accessibility, including bathroom handrails, a bay window with rollout garden boxes, new driveway, and a wheelchair ramp into the backyard to allow Chris to continue his passion for gardening.

□ Donate to the CM Cares general fund. These contributions will be used to supplement current and future CM Cares projects.
