CM Cares is a service-learning program in the Department of Construction Management at Colorado State University. Students participate in the CM Leadership Course to manage small community service projects throughout Northern Colorado. Volunteer students and industry members are engaged to complete the work that benefits families and organizations in need.

Max is an 8-year-old boy that is unable to walk or bathe himself. He is homebound with daily seizures and in need of a bathroom that is accessible for his family to care for him. This project will add an additional bathroom with ADA fixtures into the home to provide a safe environment for his care.

We are asking for contributions of time, resources, materials, or funds to help make this project a reality. If you care to learn more about the project recipients and the CM Cares program, along with donation information, visit www.cm.colostate.edu/cm-cares
